Summary

I made this model a few years ago, posting it here just now.

There are separate handle and blade files if anyone wants to adjust the proportions. I recommend printing it in two halves and gluing them together, as if printed flat with supports, the blade side with supports comes out rough and is in stark contrast to the other smooth side (the main photo is the top side, the other one is the one printed with supports). If anyone would be interested I can post the already halved version here too.
