Summary

Just another organizer when I didn't find one I liked.

I did my nails and had all these things lying around table. It was annoying. Came here to find suitable organizer to put all those stuff. Didn't find one I liked, soooo... This is fast and dirty, I just went to slicer and slapped some slabs together until I had a form I liked. It is not in any way most cleaned and even model, but this fit my needs and I like it, so here it is. Or they, I made first one and found out it was too small, so I went back, made additional compartment, looked it and added one more, but saved the medium one too.
