

3 person Tic Tac Toe

Mivi Mivin

VIEW IN BROWSER

updated 15. 1. 2023 | published 15. 1. 2023

Summary

5 by 5 Tic Tac Toe board and 3 different game pieces

Toys & Games > Board Games

Tags: tictactoe

My daughter loves playing x's and o's. One day her brother also wanted to play and as I was about to bow out they asked if all three of us could play. Quick google search taught me that 3 player Tic Tac Toe is a thing! Calamity ensued but we were using a lot of sheets of paper. It bugged me to do that so the very first thing I modeled at home was this game. I has provided hours of fun for us and I have made a couple of them for friends as well. You can obviously play 2 player on the center 3X3 grid.

Game board should be good to go and straight forward. All prints done at . 15mm layer height

I printed 9 of each game piece. you could get away with 8 of each but there will be an empty spot on the board if you play until that point (only had 2 draws the entire time we've been playing though)

I printed the game pieces with a brim due to the bed contact being so low for them. Otherwise just the generic presets on my slicer were used.

We play youngest goes first and play goes clockwise, 3 in a row wins just like 2 person. Play however you wish! I modeled stars and hearts at my daughters request but haven't gotten around to printing them yet. I may upload them later if they print well.

Hope you have many hours of fun with this game too!

Happy Printing!

Model files

tic-tac-toe_triangle.stl

tic-tac-toe_x.stl

tic-tac-toe_o.stl

5x5-3-person-tictactoe.stl

License ©

This work is licensed under a
Creative Commons \(4.0 International License\)

Attribution-NonCommercial

- ✗ | Sharing without ATTRIBUTION
- ✓ | Remix Culture allowed
- ✗ | Commercial Use
- ✗ | Free Cultural Works
- ✗ | Meets Open Definition